
Title: Protectorate meeting

Author: Zachary

Protectorate meeting,
Dec. 68 366
(April 27 2008)

-Wants to work on a united military training.
Issues with coordinating such a large force, Adrien himself will coordinate it. Should begin within 6 days.

-18th of may a day of great celebration, they will march into Britain and will have a masquerade ball and games, and rewards for everyone who attend. Will also give patents of nobility.

-Vampire activity brought to his attention, as well as violent acts in relation to them. He wants immediate military action to "Neutralize this minor threat to our people."

-Lord M'real opposes the action, saying the vampires are weak and do not require use of the entire army. Adrien says he will not be using the full army, just enough in relation to their force.
M'real now agrees.

-No opposition, Adrien is going to make arrangements with his generals.

-At the festivities in Britain, Adrien will be getting married.

-sounds like he's organizing training for his "allied army" because of his planned attack on the vampires.

-Talon says there is a great "virus" and "parasite" among the protectorate, taking from them like a cancer.

Refers to Moonglow. Talon says he wants to "Purge this weickedness from our ranks before they damn us all toe failure. It was NOT moonglow who bled upon the field of Honor against the forces of Tarothin Armunn. No. It was MOONGLOW who took them into their bosom. Our ow enemies. Embraced by our steadfast allies. I speak for those who dare not speak for themselves."

Apparently other Lords of the Protectorate hate Moonglow, and Talon is speaking out for them.

Talon wants Moonglow to either contribute to the Protectorate, or leave it. But I know from discussion with Moonglow people that they believe they gain nothing from the Protectorate and stand on their own, they do not use the Protectorate resources. The real issue is likely that Moonglow doesn't follow the bastardized virtue religion that Sanctus follows, and is more powerful than them.

Fong called them barbarians, Adrien took offense saying they were under his control.

Six people besides Talon object to Moonglow.

Someone just yelled out Moonglow harbors vampires. Someone says Moonglow threatens the regent. A man in a robe wants Moonglow to be destroyed, they harbor necromancers and vampires. Adrien says it would be his duty alone to brand them traitors or embrace them as true friends. Adrien believes their "mutual relationships require some clarifications."

Hooded robed man claims Vaen is a vampire.

Isk wants a vote rather than Adrien deciding on Moonglow's stance.
Adrien will allow a vote, but the result will only be to advise him. He is the only one who can legally end their relationship with Verity Isle.

Fong believes Moonglow has been treated second class since joining with the Protectorate.

Adrien says he values
Talon because Sanctus protected him.

Moonglow left. Talon making a big deal about Moonglow turning their back on Adrien.
A tokuno woman asking if neutrality isn't welcome, I think she views her people as neutral.

Overwhelming support for removing Moonglow from the Protectorate.
Adrien is saying that it is a move to see them as a neutral body and not an enemy, as Umbra is. They will just not be seen as a part of the collective alliance. Adrien does not support or endorse offensive attacks and will not place embargos or call for action against Moonglow. It simply means they will not be allies.

The woman is saying that while Adrien has no ill will, there are threats to burn them and harm them that aren't being addressed.

I'm left with the impression that Adrien might be saying there will be no attacks on Moonglow, but judging from the other responses it sounds as though the man with the strange accent wants to wage war on them. Sanctus would eagerly join with them too no doubt.

Adrien says he will not condone any violent action taken against them without violent provocation, but that might just be words since Adrien values Talon so much.

Legion of Honor votes yes

Kingdom of Yew votes yes.

Kuran Yuuretsu abstains.
Kingdom of Stahlkreiger votes yes.

Riders of Visigoth votes yes.

House of the Gauntlet abstains.
House Isk votes yes.

Garrick is the man with the accent who wants to violently harm Moonglow. He's trying to pass a motion to burn Verity Isle, wants to vote for it now. Adrien says until there is sufficient proof of Moonglow's malcontent he will not hold such a vote. Isk agrees.

Garrick is saying the machine that caused the rift in Moonglow means they cannot control their isle, the Tokuno woman is arguing the same could be said of House Isk and Magincia.
